MINISTER HERE TO DECIDE ON BUILDING SITE

Hon. H. H. Stevens Told New Federal Structure Should Be Located on Town Side of Harbor

City Submits Plea For $250,000 Auditorium

Differences of Opinion Aired on Proposed Location of New Government Building

Hon. H. H. Stevens, Minister of Trade and Commerce, and British Columbia's representative to the federal cabinet, arrived here this morning to look over sites for the new federal building in Victoria and to address a joint luncheon of the Chamber of Commerce and Canadian Club. Mr. Stevens also heard representations from the Victoria City Council urging the Dominion government construct a $250,000 auditorium here as well.

D. F. Plunkett, M.P., met the Minister on arrival and soon afterwards he was escorted with friends viewing the site of the proposed building. After luncheon he left by motor for the town side of the harbor to see the site of the proposed building. The difference of opinion over the location of the building to be constructed as part of the federal works program to relieve unemployment was made known to the Minister's time.

Official plans called for the structure to be situated on the western side of Johnson Street bridge, but this is vigorously opposed by local interests. A delegation composed of Mayor David Leeming, Aldermen John Worthington, Walter Loney and J. D. Hunter, representing the City Council and G. H. Stevens, James Parfitt and R. H. H. Ker, of the Chamber of Commerce, supported the suggestion that the building be located on the town side of the harbor in the neighborhood of the present marine building.

Local interests want an eight-story structure which will house all the federal offices in the city, besides the marine department. The $100,000 vote for the work would not cover the cost of such a building, but it is suggested the foundation be laid with this end in view so that original plans be made for a four story structure. Additional funds could then be voted next year for further work.

Feeling that the building should be a permanent structure, the city officials at Ottawa have been held up. After hearing the representations, Mr. Stevens, accompanied by Mr. Plunkett, inspected the different sites. The Minister will submit his report to Ottawa on this inspection.

Payment of a stabilized wage scale in the federal works was urged by members of the delegation, who pointed out the existing situation which prompted artisans to accept any wages in order to keep off relief.

PLAN FOR AUDITORIUM

The auditorium project, sponsored by Mayor Leeming, Aldermen John Worthington, Walter Loney and J. D. Hunter, was discussed by Mr. Stevens.

The men will be employed on the Lake Louise-Jasper Highway, and will be paid by the federal government on an hourly and monthly basis, depending on the work they are assigned to.

ONTARIO IS RETRENCHING

Hepburn Saves $2,000,000 Since Taking Office; Mu-Lock To Contest Seat

Canadian Press
Newmarket, Ont., Aug. 17.—Premier Mitchell F. Hepburn of Ontario last night told a North Park Liberal convention that the government had made a $2,000,000 saving in administration expenses since taking office and declared another $100,000 would be saved in the auditing of departmental books.

The convention elected Col. W. F. Mu-Lock as the Liberal candidate for the federal by-election in North York. MAGISTRATES FIRED

Toronto, Aug. 17.—An order-in-council passed yesterday by the Ontario cabinet, drastically reduces the number of magistrates in the province. The reorganization of the magistracy system places forty-eight magistrates in charge of work outside six large cities, previously done by 132 magistrates.

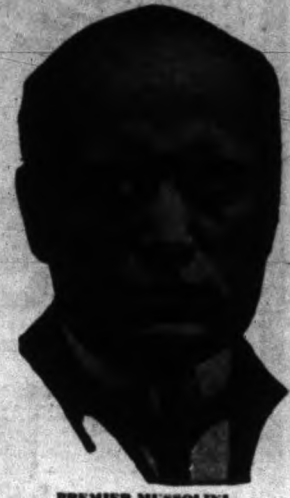

Under the change, ninety magistrates will lose their positions, and some 10,000 justices of the peace will be retired.

Saving under the new scheme will be about $500,000 annually.

The Ontario Government will pay the salaries of the new magistrates appointed under the reorganization of the magistracy system, I. A. Humphreys, E.C., Deputy Attorney-General, said today. Later, however, the government may change this plan, he intimated, by apportioning some of the cost to the municipalities. Under the reorganization, salaries range from $2,500 to $4,000 a year.

Although J. P. McKinley of Ottawa has been retired from his magistracy, his status as chairman of the Ontario Parole Board and judge of the Juvenile Court is unaffected, Mr. Humphreys said.

TO MEET SCHUSCHNIGG

PREMIER MUSSOLINI

Associated Press
Rome, Aug. 17.—An official communiqué announced today that Premier Benito Mussolini of Italy and Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg of Austria will meet in Italy during the period of the Italian army maneuvers, August 19 to 21.

The exact day of the meeting was not announced nor was the place for the meeting stated. Semi-official circles said it would be August 21.

It was regarded as possible Mussolini might take the leader of the Austrian nation to see part of Italy's military maneuvers.

Caught Bear With Ice Worm

Prevaricators Hold Extraordinary Session at Sourdough Reunion

Associated Press
Tacoma, Wash., Aug. 17.—The Re-United Prevaricators of the International Sourdough Reunion met yesterday in extraordinary session.

Jack Roberts, Los Angeles, told the annual convention somebody was a liar when they said Alaskan miners fed dogs to invisible leopards so they could be seen.

"We did not use dye," he said. "We placed forty-rod whisky on the ice in the snow. The worms would drink it and fall over with a thud. Every time we heard a thud, we would grope in that direction and catch an leopord."

The only trouble was that when those worms were placed on the hook while full of whisky, they would just as soon catch anything that came along instead of sticking to fish. I had an leopord that once caught a polar bear."

There was a roar from the "clan" who took the long hike up the Chilcotin trail and fought the elements in Alaska and the Yukon for gold.

Victim of Canada's First Major Kidnapping Was Held for Sixty-six Hours With Eyes Taped; Rumors of Various Ransom Sums Being Paid Over by Man's Relatives, Who Allegedly Did Not Co-operate Fully With Police; Labatt in Good Health, But in Need of Sleep

John S. Labatt, wealthy London brewer, who was kidnapped and held for sixty-six hours, with his eyes taped, was released by his abductors on the outskirts of Toronto early today and is now resting at his home after a harrowing experience.

News dispatches to-day indicate that Labatt's relatives negotiated with the kidnappers and it was reported that sums ranging from $50,000 to $150,000 may have been paid over for the brewer's release.

EXTRA TROOPS FOR AUSTRIA

Powers Approve Continued Enlistment of National Defence Force

Associated Press
Rome, Aug. 17.—Italy, Great Britain and France have responded favorably to a request by Austria that she be allowed to continue enlisting a supplementary quota by troops for the national defence, a government communiqué said yesterday.

"The Italian government has declared itself favorable to a request by Austria for prolonging the conscription made last year for the enlistment of a military body to increase security," the communiqué stated.

"The Italian government has made known its point of view to the French and English governments, to which the Austrian government also had turned. The result is that these two governments also are favorable."

OFFICIAL STATEMENT

Hon. Arthur W. Roebuck, E.C., Ontario Attorney-General, in the first official document to be issued in connection with the kidnapping, disclosed that two men effected the actual kidnapping Tuesday and that three or four men were in the car when Mr. Labatt was released.

Mr. Roebuck confirmed that Mr. Labatt had been blindfolded during his captivity. He was released in Forest Hill village just outside Toronto.

Every effort was being made, said Mr. Roebuck, to ascertain whether the family had paid ransom money. Mr. Roebuck said Inspector John Miller of Ontario police was with Mr. Labatt securing every detail of the kidnapping from him. There will be no access to Mr. Labatt for some little time.

After his capture he and his abductors toured Ontario highways for about twelve hours, and before he was released, he was driven for between five and six hours.

While Inspector Miller carried on the police investigation from Mr. Labatt's side, other provincial officers held a conference in London and mapped out plans for capture of the criminals.

POLICE AUTHORITY

Mr. Roebuck in his statement pointed out there was a lack of authority for police to take charge of individuals involved in kidnapping cases and protect them from racketeers. He thought the time would come when police forces would have authority to take charge of relatives and all their affairs in cases of the kind.

Ransom reports were many and varied. A source close to the family said "a considerable sum" was paid. Attorney-General Roebuck, in Toronto, said he didn't know what action had been taken. From Detroit came an unconfirmed report John Labatt, cousin of the kidnapped man, had paid the full amount demanded, $150,000, had been paid over. Hamilton quoted another unnamed source to the effect "less than $50,000" resulted in the brewer's release.

DRIVEN FOR HOURS

Toronto, Aug. 17.—Labatt was released in Toronto last night or this morning, about 12:30, said Attorney-General Roebuck today, issuing official details of the John Labatt kidnapping.

He was blindfolded and had been continuously blindfolded since the time he was taken. He was left in the vicinity of Forest Hill Village, from where he took a taxi to the Royal York Hotel.

"He was immediately carried from there, by his own friends, in a car to London."

"At the time of his release he drove between five and six hours, he thinks, but his judgment in that of a man (Turn to Page 2, Col. 2.)

Somerville To Meet Campbell In Amateur Canadian Golf Final

Ontario Star, Former National and U.S. Title Holder, and Seattle Boy, Defender, Win Matches, Defeating Jesse Guilford and E. Palmer, Respectively

BY J. F. Sanderson, Canadian Press Staff Writer
Laval-sur-le-Lac, Que., Aug. 17.—Sandy Somerville, London, Ont., and Albert "Scotty" Campbell, Seattle, will play thirty-six holes to-morrow in the final of the Canadian Amateur Golf tournament.

In the semi-finals to-day, Somerville smothered Jesse Guilford, the old Boston step-son, 9 and 8, while Campbell, defeating the title he won last year at Vancouver, eliminated young Ernie Palmer of Winnipeg, 5 and 4.

The Canadian ranking player, four times winner of the Dominion amateur crown and once of the American, defeated the thirty-nine-year-old Boston veteran of the links with a series of pars. He played twenty-eight holes in 3 over par, maintaining a steady pace. The two injections of the United States amateur event played erratic golf, going 13 over par for the distance. Guilford was off line many times from the tee, and two and three putted his scoring chances. He won only one hole in the morning and one in the afternoon.

Palmer put up a brave fight after being 6 down this morning. He was even par for the fourteen afternoon holes played, his 37 strokes being one better than Campbell. The Manitoba youngster, however, could do no more than whittle one hole off Campbell's big lead, and the match ended on the thirty-second green.

END LEAD AT HALF MARK

Somerville, at the end of eighteen holes, had a five-hole lead over Jesse Guilford, Boston, and Campbell had a six-hole advantage over young Ernie Palmer, Winnipeg.

Minister Calls For Change In Methods

Canada Faces Challenge on World Markets and in Own Business, Says Stevens

Women Make Dresses for 38 Cents a Dozen, Wages Cut, Back Dividends Paid

Canada must adjust its business methods both externally and internally, Hon. H. H. Stevens, Minister of Trade and Commerce, told a group of about 500 business leaders of Victoria at a luncheon in the Empress Hotel to-day sponsored by the Canadian Club and the Chamber of Commerce.

To cope with the nationalist tendencies of other countries it must meet the controlled marketing methods of the world and recognize the change in the ways of doing business which had come about in recent years. To this end the Dominion Government had passed the Marketing Act.

CHALLENGE TO BE FACED

Internally, the methods of labor exploitation as revealed recently were a challenge to the Canadian people which they must face if they did not wish others to take control of the social and economic structure. They were aware which must be removed if democratic institutions were to be preserved.

The Minister confined his address strictly to these two themes. He outlined the world situation in brief, showing how the major countries of the globe were controlling their industries.

Threats of Military Action Against Soviet Carried By Japanese Press as Outcome of Manchukuo Incident

Associated Press
Tokyo, Aug. 17.—The Japanese press is publishing threats of military action against the Soviet government as the result of another dangerous situation in North Manchuria.

There have been several like it since Japan in 1931 seized Manchuria and began attempts to relieve Russia of her Manchurian holdings and end Russian influence in the region.

Roosevelt Only Can Avert Strike

CASCADE IS FIRE SWEEP

Two Hotels, Store and Service Station Burned Out in B.C. Town

Canadian Press
Cascade, B.C., Aug. 17.—Fire of unknown origin swept this town to-day, destroying the British Columbia Hotel, Cascade Hotel, a store owned by the Crawford estate and a garage and service station.

At noon the fire was believed to have burned itself out.

Firefighting men from Grand Forks are in charge of the fire-fighting forces.

Lack of water facilities handicapped the firefighters. Domestic water for the town is hauled from a creek four or five miles away. Flames forced too much headway for use of industry department pumps from the Seattle River, about half a mile away. Only a small amount of insurance was carried.

A strong wind aided the fire which is believed to have broken out behind the British Columbia Hotel about 2:30 a.m. and within an hour the buildings were flat. The C.P.R. station was not destroyed.

HITLER ACTION IS EXPLAINED

Foreign Hostility Prompted Him to Seize Presidential Power, He Says

Associated Press
Hamburg, Germany, Aug. 17.—Chancellor Adolf Hitler told the German nation to-day foreign hostility towards the Reich prompted him to seize quickly the presidential powers of the late Paul von Hindenburg.

Hitler said he appreciated the authority of the President instantly, and added that his purpose in stepping into the place left vacant by von Hindenburg was to forestall national calamity.

The address here, heard by the entire nation, was Hitler's first and only speech before the Reichstag Sunday in which the German people will be asked to approve his joining the office of Chancellor and Reich President.

"Otherwise we naturally would have chosen another way—first an appeal to the people and then a carrying out of the people's decision," Hitler said.

"In this case the result would have been no different from what it will be now," he said.

But the attitude toward Germany showed did not permit such an appeal, the Chancellor explained.

CANADA FILMS WIN OVERSEAS

Talkies Produced in This Country Released on Four Continents

Montreal, Aug. 17.—Production of Canadian talking pictures has now advanced to a point where they are receiving continuous distribution on four continents, according to E. E. Morris, managing director of Associated Screen Studios here.

Mr. Morris reported the successful reception of a series of such Canadian films in Australia and New Zealand, following conclusion of an arrangement for distribution. Similar theatrical release is under way in South Africa. For the last two years Canadian sound films have been very popular in the British Isles.

Mr. Morris said technicians, scenario and studio staffs are entirely Canadian. The films are short subjects and in planning them, advantage has been taken of themes which were distinctly Canadian, including stories and backgrounds in all parts of the Dominion. The Rockies, the Maritimes, Montreal, Ottawa, Canadian sports engineering achievements and natural resources have been among the backgrounds featured.

STRESS POWER OF WEEKLIES

Newspaper Association Holds Fifteenth Annual Convention at Montreal

Montreal, Aug. 17.—The influence that the weekly Canadian press wields, the recently improved standard of its editorial comment, and the potential power that it possesses in shaping public opinion throughout the Dominion were the points emphasized yesterday at the opening session of the Canadian Weekly Newspaper Association, holding their fifteenth annual convention here. At the same time delegates are celebrating the seventh anniversary of the formation of the Canadian Press Association, out of which, in 1920, sprang the three separate organizations that now exist—the Canadian Daily Press Association, the Canadian Weekly Newspaper Association and the Canadian National Newspaper and Press Association.

SIX KILLED ON ITALIAN PEAK

Asolo, Italy, Aug. 17.—Six Italian amateur mountaineers were killed yesterday attempting to climb Corvinu peak.

The alpinists were ascending in two groups totaling seven men. One of them, exhausted, stopped to rest while the others climbed on. He saw them all lose their footholds and fall over a cliff to their deaths.

INDIANS' RIGHT TO KILL GAME

Edson, Alberta Magistrate Dismisses Charge Against Chief

Edson, Alta., Aug. 17.—Canada is our country; God gave us mouths to eat and put game in the country for us to live on. It is the only way we have of getting a living. You white men have an education and a job to live by, but we have no other way," John O'Casey, Chippewa Indian chief, explained to Magistrate R. E. Thurber here, when charged with illegal possession of big game carcasses. The magistrate dismissed the case.

Evidence disclosed in July that a party of forty Chippewa Indians moved from the Rocky Mountain House district to Mariboro, and began to kill moose and deer. Although the game would be exterminated through a general slaughter, citizens complained.

DEATH TOLL ON ROADS SOARS

Fatal Accidents on English Highways Hit New High Record

London, Aug. 17.—The number of fatal accidents on the roads of Great Britain last week was the highest ever recorded.

The total was 180—an increase of forty-one over the previous week and of forty-seven over the week before. And in this period 600 more people were injured in road accidents.

Details of the returns, which is for the week were:

England—Killed in accidents 117, died as results of accidents 31, injured 480.

Wales—Killed in accidents 10, injured 258.

Scotland—Died as results of accidents 1, injured 58.

These figures have driven the Minister of Transport to call on the women of the country to do their part in making all more careful. He has asked every woman to say to her husband, son or brother, when he leaves for work in the morning, "Be careful. Come home alive."

It is difficult to account completely for the increase in road deaths. One suggestion, which may bear a certain amount of truth, is that many persons have brought their cars on to the road after laying them up for a while, and have not taken sufficient care to see that they were in perfect running order.

Another suggestion is that the practice of building houses along arterial roads has led to increases in the death toll.

These arterial and by-pass roads were designed originally to avoid crowded areas and enable traffic—as the word "by-pass" implies—to pass by dangerous or populous districts. But speculative builders have developed "desirable residential estates" alongside these roads, with the result that traffic is slowed down just where it was meant to go fast, and more dangers than ever are placed in the way of both pedestrians and motorists. It is almost safer now to use the old main roads in preference to the by-passes.

GAELIC POPULAR IN IRISH KIRKS

Dublin, Aug. 17.—Good progress has been made with the translation into Gaelic of the Book of Common Prayer and the translators have been authorized to proceed with work on the Psalter to the Book. This was reported to the annual meeting of the Gaelic League at St. Stephen's Church of Ireland.

The services which are conducted weekly in Irish on the first and fourth Sunday of each month in St. Patrick's Cathedral, Dublin, have become so popular, especially with the younger members, that the governing body has made arrangements for regular weekly services in the national language.

Membership of the guild has shown a remarkable increase and it was decided to embark on a campaign for a greater use of Gaelic in services and to encourage Irish art and music in the church.

CANADIAN HAY FOR STATES

Would Be Used to Feed Livestock in Drought-stricken Areas

Washington, Aug. 17.—Farm administration officials said here the plan mentioned by President Roosevelt at his press conference for bringing in Canadian hay might call for United States government purchase of surplus hay supplies in Canada and shipment into the United States for feeding livestock in drought-stricken areas.

Two possible moves on the tariff on hay were that the President might lower the tariff by 50 per cent under the new reciprocal tariff act or that the hay, being government property while in shipment, might be admitted free of duty. Officials explained, however, these suggestions were only tentative pending further study of the problem.

RECOVER BODY OF BOY SCOUT

Missing Vincent Slocumb Found Floating at Tujunga Dam, California; Companions Hurt

Los Angeles, Aug. 17.—Cried in his boy scout uniform except for shoes, the body of fourteen-year-old Vincent Slocumb, missing since Monday when he disappeared in the White Oak Canyon area, was yesterday found floating in water fifty feet deep behind big Tujunga Dam, twenty miles north of here.

The victim's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Slocumb, who have been maintaining a sleepless vigil at the dam, collapsed as his body was lifted from a boat. The boy, apparently had fallen over a 200-foot cliff into the lake. Preliminary examination indicated the boy was badly bruised and the boy probably was unconscious when he struck the water.

Young Slocumb was one of four Boy Scouts who went on a fishing and exploring trip that turned into tragedy. Two of the other boys, Edward Katten and Fred Lippert Jr., plunged over a steep incline near the scene of the Slocumb boy's fall. They lay in hospitals to-day in a grave condition.

The Lippert boy was rescued late Monday from a clump of underbrush through efforts of John Gliner, the injured member of the party, and young Katten was found early Tuesday after lying all night wedged between two boulders.

VENGEANCE IS MOTIVE GIVEN

Montreal, Aug. 17.—Vengeance definitely was the motive of the murder of police court interpreter Alexander Soukhoff, detectives stated here.

The fifty-year-old Russian who met death Monday night "knew too much" of the underworld for the safety of some of its elements, it was said.

A search of the house in which Soukhoff lived revealed a note which contained reference to a letter he had addressed to the Attorney-General of the Province of Quebec concerning the alleged perjury of two witnesses in a recent criminal case.

The names of the supposed perjurers were written on Soukhoff's memorandum and the men are being sought for questioning by police.

Hospital Never Had Patient

Derry Board Crosses Free State Border in Effort to Solve Problem

Dublin, Aug. 17.—Derry Port Sanitary Board has just held a remarkable meeting, the members leaving Northern Ireland to go into the Free State to deal with the business for which the meeting was summoned.

The board crossed the border in taxis to inspect its hospital at Ballyrath, near Drogheda, in County Down, a hospital which has never had a patient since its opening thirteen years ago. It was built to deal with cases of infectious diseases on vessels coming to Derry but before its completion the board had been created, with the result that the board was left on one side of the border and the hospital on the other.

No solution of the situation has ever been devised and the board decided to effect repairs to the institution, the chairman remarking that "the present state of affairs cannot go on forever."

TOWER SHELTERS ONTARIO LORE

Toronto, Aug. 17.—Atop one end of the great white stone block that houses some of the Ontario government offices in Queen's Park is a tower which stretches its slender height some half dozen stories into the air. To most passers-by and hundreds of civil servants who work in the building beneath it is just an architectural decoration. But to the student of history it is of great importance.

This thoroughly modern skyscraper tower, houses the Ontario government archives. The dusty volumes and files stored within it contain a record of Ontario from the days of the earliest settlements as well as many priceless mementos of person and events which had to do with the making of modern Canada and the United States.

Although the Ontario archives have been officially in existence only about twenty years the documents in its keeping date back to the eighteenth century.

Anniversary Of Flying Observed

Edmonton, Aug. 17.—Twenty-fifth anniversary of flying in Canada was commemorated here when members of the Edmonton and Northern Alberta Aero Club kept an airplane aloft for fifteen hours and fifteen minutes in "a dawn-to-dusk" flight.

Miss Margaret Fane was the only woman pilot to take part in the commemoration of the flight made by "Casey" Baldwin, who hopped off in his crudely-made flyer 1909 twenty-five years ago, August 18, in Nova Scotia.

WHAT! YOUR SOAP WILL SOAK OUT DIRT FROM CLOTHES IN 15 MINUTES — SAFELY? .. I DON'T BELIEVE IT!

IT'S TRUE! AND I'LL PROVE IT!

New million dollar faster-washing soap discovery comes as a shock to housewives who have had disastrous experiences with old-type fast-washing soaps. How they are amazed to find that this new soap not only does in 15 minutes' soaking what other soaps take hours of scrubbing and boiling to do, but also works with utter safety to colors, fabrics, hands. And—gets clothes 4 to 5 shades whiter without one bit of washboard wear and tear.

WHEN a new invention comes along that completely outgrows something that was theretofore thought "modern"—there is usually heated controversy. And so it is today in regard to science's newest, most amazing soap invention.

"What! Soak out dirt from clothes in 15 minutes—safely? It's impossible," say thousands. Yet other thousands who have actually tried this remarkable new soap swear that its action is positively miraculous, and that it not only washes clothes 4 to 5 shades whiter in record time—without scrubbing or boiling—but also works with utter safety to colors, fabrics, hands.

The Procter and Gamble Company, who spent a million dollars to perfect this new soap, were quick to make this statement: "We know it's hard to believe," they said, "but it's true! And every week thousands more women are finding out that it is true."

An Utterly New-Type Soap
The result of some 4 years experimentation and the expenditure of over one million dollars, the new, improved OXYDOL is utterly different from anything you have tried before.

It is new in principle. (Process patented.) It is new in action. It is new in results.

It does these 3 things that no other soap can do now or has ever succeeded in doing:

Loosens dirt out of clothes in 15 minutes' soaking. This banishes all the back-breaking scrubbing and scrubbing. And cuts washing time 25% to 40% in tub or machine—gives you afterwards free!

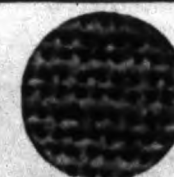

Gets clothes 4 to 5 shades whiter than other soaps, by scientific whiteness-measuring tintometer test. Whiter in one washing than other granulated soaps can do in two washings!

Yet, due to the protection of its new and improved formula, colors won't fade; fabrics won't suffer! Even cotton prints and children's dainty frocks are safe. And, despite its amazing

TESTS SHOW HOW OXYDOL GETS CLOTHES CLEAN WITHOUT USUAL "HARSH" EFFECT

1. Photomicrograph of a cloth washed with ordinary soap. Note heavy dirt on the surface of the cloth.

2. Photomicrograph of a cloth washed 24 times with OXYDOL. Note the clean surface of the cloth.

THE LABATT CASE

MR. JOHN LABATT, A WEALTHY brewer of London, Ontario, was allowed to return to his home at an early hour to-day after being held for $150,000 ransom by kidnappers. The sensational phase of the first major affair of the sort ever to take place in Canada was that the abductors allowed their victim to regain his liberty without the payment of the full sum demanded—less than $50,000 is reported to have been the price of release. It is presumed they were convinced the police were closing in on them and that their safest policy would be to modify their terms and cover up their tracks as best they could. In any case, it is gratifying to learn that although naturally fatigued in body and mind, Mr. Labatt is little the worse for his harrowing experience, while his bank account was not reduced by as much as the original ransom named.

The family and the police are giving out no further information for the present. The exact point at which Mr. Labatt was removed from his automobile as he was driving from his Sarnia Beach summer home on Tuesday has not been known. Other unknown factors are: the identity of "three-fingered Abe" who signed the ransom note found in the car; the location of the hideaway at which Labatt was held during his captivity; the identity of strangers who called at the hotel in Toronto at which Mr. Labatt's brother Hugh was staying on Wednesday and Thursday; Hugh's mission when he was announced last yesterday that he had been gone from the hotel twelve hours; and the relative part played by the family and the police in obtaining the brewer's release. Twenty-five newspapers tried to get into touch with the principals in the case but the general manager of the Labatt brewery told them if they wanted any further information they would have to go to the police; the police referred them back to the family. For the time being, therefore, the public will have to wait for other details of Canada's first major kidnapping case.

While numerous kidnappings have been going on in the United States—the Lindbergh case was the most shocking of all—Canada has been thankful her lucky stars that she has been immune. Thus the Labatt affair has started us out of our complacency and furnished us with a reminder that we, too, are up against the same sinister business. The galling part in connection with this type of crime is the difficulty in catching the perpetrators. They have the whip hand over their immediate victim and they know that where there is money to be had the family will be ready to comply with almost any conditions for the release of the missing member. In the case of Mr. Labatt we are told that although $150,000 was demanded, less than $50,000 changed hands. Information on this point, however, still is somewhat vague.

The suggestion naturally will be advanced that experienced malefactors from the United States are the guilty persons in the abduction of Mr. Labatt. Such may or may not be the case. But what everybody will hope is that the officers of the law will be able to catch the culprits and insure for them the fullest punishment which the law permits—twenty-five years in the penitentiary. A better way to deal with this hideous type of crime would be to change the Criminal Code to permit of capital punishment. Many cases of killing are the result of quarrels—tempers out of control and the rash act committed in the frenzy of the moment; but abduction for ransom is premeditated villainy and should be atoned for on the gallows.

A FAMOUS TRIAL RECALLED

THE DEATH RECENTLY IN A HOSPI- tal in Saratoga Springs, N.Y., of an old man named Mendel Beils recalls a sensational murder trial which may have been forgotten by most people. In 1911, Beils was living in a suburb of the Russian city of Kiev. The suburb had 10,000 inhabitants, of whom Beils was the only Jew. Since anti-Semitism was almost as rampant in Russia then as it is in Germany now, Beils was not popular. One day the body of a thirteen-year-old boy was found in a cave on the edge of the suburb. The lad had been murdered; his body was pierced by no fewer than forty-seven stab wounds. And Beils was promptly arrested and charged with murder. Strictly speaking, there was no evidence against him. But that made no difference; the accusation and the trial were matters of passion, anyway. For Beils was accused of having performed a "ritual murder." He had killed the boy, it was said, so he might use the blood to sprinkle on matzoths, the Passover bread.

It is hard for us to-day to understand how such a charge could be taken seriously—but it stirred all Russia. Citizens of Kiev shrieked for Beils's blood. The trial was not held until 1913, and the authorities had to order out 1,500 Cossacks and 1,500 infantrymen to keep Beils from being lynched. Once a bomb was thrown at the carriage that took him to court; another time, a mob tried to burn a street car in which he was being carried. In the end, of course, Beils was acquitted. Shortly afterward a woman member of a band of thieves confessed the murder. She was executed, and Beils, after many tribulations, made his way to the United States, where he lived the rest of his life in peace.

All this would hardly be worth recalling to-day except for the light that it throws on that strangest of human phenomena, anti-Semitism. The anti-Semitism of Russia was an artificial growth, pumped up by the government to distract the attention of the populace from its real troubles. It betokened, as it always does, a society ready to crash from its own rottenness.

Looking back at it we can remind ourselves that the man or the organization that raises the banner of anti-Semitism usually does it to keep people from noticing something of infinitely greater consequence.

A LABORED EXPLANATION

DR. ELMO MARSHALL, CHAIRMAN OF the meeting which Hon. H. H. Stevens, Minister of Trade and Commerce in the Dominion government, addressed in Vancouver on Wednesday is reported to have said that "we have seen a deliberate and willful attempt by the Liberal press to cause disharmony within the ranks of the Conservative party and its trusty leaders."

"I know whereof I speak," said Dr. Marshall, "because I have, within the past year, frequently spoken to both the Prime Minister and Mr. Stevens. I can tell you that in the endeavors of the Prime Minister to bring prosperity to Canada, he has been backed 100 per cent by the Minister of Trade and Commerce. And in the endeavors of Mr. Stevens to see that the farmer, working man and working woman get a fair deal, he is backed 100 per cent by the Prime Minister of Canada."

What is Dr. Marshall worrying about? If Mr. Stevens and Mr. Bennett are in perfect accord, there is nothing which the Liberal press and Liberal party can do about it. What disharmony exists in the Conservative party or among "its trusty leaders" is a politically domestic affair. The people of Canada are merely waiting for their opportunity to pass judgment on their legislators.

After September 24, when five federal by-elections will be held, it may be that the Conservative party and "its trusty leaders" will be taking under advisement much more vital matters than the events which have transpired since the famous Stevens booklet was given to the public.

WHAT THE WORKERS DO

A VOLUME OF 680 PAGES DEALING with the occupations of the inhabitants of England and Wales, as revealed by the last census, has just been issued by the British Stationery Office. An interesting fact is brought out under the heading of people who are described as "retired or not gainfully occupied." In 1921 the number of males coming within this category was 1,783,390, but by 1931 it had declined to 1,385,526. The number of females in 1921 was 1,634,473, but this figure rose in the decennium to 1,804,851.

The number of occupational terms used is something in the region of 35,000. Agriculture takes a leading place. In 1921 there were 1,171,298 males and 83,052 females then engaged, but the figures in 1930 had fallen to 1,116,573 and 55,683 respectively.

In mines and quarries there was a decrease of more than 96,000, and a slight decrease is shown in metal workers.

A notable increase is shown in electrical workers. In 1921 the total was 16,558 males and 13,396 females. By 1931 the figures had risen to 186,134 and 28,445, an increase of nearly 75,000.

Builders and bricklayers also show an increase from 503,535 males and 1,743 females to 692,123 males and 775 females.

In public administration and defence there is a big decrease, the figures falling from 442,325 males and 71,881 females in 1921 to 290,202 males and 2,906 females in 1931.

Transport and communications show a big advance. In 1921 there were 1,420,593 males and 63,580 females then engaged. In 1931 the figures were 1,565,846 and 68,699.

Clerks and typists also show a big advance from 568,305 males and 429,921 females to 795,486 males and 579,945 females.

In professional occupations women outnumbered men in 1931, the figures being 389,359 to 356,726.

Germany's Minister of Propaganda, Dr. Joseph Goebbels, says "there will be no Kaiser or King" in the Reich. This seems to be a rather superfluous announcement, since if there were either Kaiser or King, there would be no room for Chancellor Hitler or Dr. Goebbels. At least Hitler has no intention of stepping down and out of office of his own free will.

When the United States fleet visited New York last month, some 900 New Yorkers contributed to a fund for their entertainment. Altogether $36,694 was collected and the blue-jackets were given a royal welcome. Then, after the fleet sailed, it was found that the committee in charge had a little less than $6,000 left over. "So the contributors got an unexpected dividend, each one receiving about fifteen per cent of the original gift. Here, surely, is something almost unprecedented in the history of contributions to worthy causes."

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

WHAT IS "OBJECTIONABLE?"
 The Ottawa Citizen

How far this movement for "clean" motion pictures will go it is difficult to tell, for the path is beset with difficulties. Mr. Hays, for example, said everything necessary would be done to assure the "right kind of screen entertainment." But what is the "right kind of film? Similarly, what is an "objectionable" picture? Even among fellow-members of a strict religious group, there may be sharp differences of opinion.

OF COURSE JOE WAS WRONG
 The Stratford Beacon-Herald

A story from Vancouver tells in brief form the strange adventure of Joe Balango. Joe, we read, has been on relief in the coast city for some time, and he grew weary of the surroundings into which and circumstances had compressed him. The limitations were severe and of variety in existence there was none.

Joe longed for a change, now he was content with thinking about it. For his decision and action followed closely one upon the heels of the other. That is why Joe Balango went and registered at a hang-out hotel in Vancouver.

What is more he stayed there for two full weeks before some person around the premises suggested that Joe might pass some currency across in the general direction of the cashier. Hotels of course are like that, particularly hang-out hotels.

Then it was that the hotel discovered that Joe had made a short excursion into good surroundings and he had no ticket. The upshot was that Joe appeared in court and was told that for the past two months he would be provided with another place to stay—in jail.

GREAT THOUGHT

SITTING on the veranda here above the lake just now, I have been reading an article in a magazine about Professor Einstein. It says that he has done more for human knowledge than anybody since Archimedes. And finally it says that under his unimpressive exterior Professor Einstein is thinking the most important thoughts in history.

It's about time this nonsense about Einstein was stopped. It's about time the world stopped worshipping something which it can't understand any better than a savage understands his dumb ideas. They say there are fourteen men in the world who understand the theory of Relativity. But I dare say several have died since the last census. But everywhere millions of people believe the theory of what it means. Everywhere millions will believe this claim statement in the magazine that Einstein is thinking the most important thoughts in history.

Well, he isn't. I could name dozens and scores of fellows who have thought infinitely greater thoughts than Professor Einstein has ever produced in his theory of Relativity. You may reply indignantly that I don't understand the theory of Relativity and am as ignorant of it as you. Quite true, but that is not necessary. I do not understand the theory of gravitation either, but I am quite capable of forming an opinion of it. As I did just now when the ham-mock rope broke.

Anyway, it is clear that the theory of Relativity relates to the composition and character of the physical universe. For that reason it is bound to be of secondary importance. The most important thoughts have never related and will never relate to the physical universe at all. For that reason the professor, even if his theory of relativity is finally accepted, even if, by chance, it is supported by 1,000 people or 14,000,000, still it will be of minor importance and in the course of time it will be forgotten by civilizations yet unborn and of races not yet born.

TRUTH

BUT after all the paraphernalia of Relativity and all the accumulated learning of science has been buried, has accumulated into dust, some of the most common and unpretentious thoughts, little honored in our time, will still endure. Even if lost, they will appear millions of years later on one side of the Pacific, look back upon us as old-men. They are the important thoughts because they touch a realm beyond the scope of Relativity, outside the bounds of science altogether. And the funny thing is that they are free and open to all and often are best understood by the most ignorant and obscure.

Einstein and the other professors spend their lives with test tubes, algebraic equations and theories that only fourteen people can understand. In every thing they get to the truth about things. When they begin to get a faint glimpse, the world stands and gasps with admiration. The newspapers leave with emotion. The public is told and believes that this is the most important idea in the world, that at last the truth is being revealed. When actually much more of the truth has been known ever since men knew anything, though even that is fairly small in volume. Science is staggered when it begins to see that the universe makes sense after all, when it has made sense to the ignorant all along. Science almost dies of the shock when it discovers that there is more to it all than meets the eye. Why. (Turn to Page 5, Col. 2)

THE VICTORIA DAILY TIMES

August 17, 1909

(From The Times File)
 There arrived in the city yesterday afternoon E. J. Chamberlain, vice-president and general manager of the C.P.R. Railway.

J. P. Babcock, deputy commissioner of fisheries, will leave for the upper waters of the Fraser at the end of this week. He will inspect the spawning beds and also investigate a number of new beds which have not yet been reported upon.

Fred Cook, representative in Canada of The London Times, came in from the mainland last evening and this afternoon went on to the fair at Seattle, where he will spend a few days with Col. Hutchinson.

The annual Shawinigan Lake regatta takes place on Saturday next at Shawinigan Lake, where the usual long list of aquatic sports will be contested.

J. E. Painter of Victoria, and his son Frederick, have just returned from a trip down to California without a wonder that the ship of the United States to England, the trip altogether lasting two months.

The contract for the new operating house and office for the wireless station at Gonzales has been let to A. McCrimmon, and ground was broken this morning for the foundations.

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By ALINE MICHAELS

CHANGED AND CHANGELESS
 I never can go back to the old place
 And find it every street and house
 And catch in glimpses of my kind, known
 But only meet one way, glances strange Without a word that I am glad to see
 And thus so after all the world I know
 And know of friends who have not I never can go back the way I was Where, as of old, the punctual tide are
 The ancient thrush of the sea to land
 But that I marvel things so changed
 Nature unchanged, while all the rest
 Is dreaming!

FUNDS FOR SUNSHINE CAMP WANTED

To the Editor:—May I be privileged again to appeal to the generous public on behalf of the city of Victoria and surrounding district for financial assistance so as to enable us to carry on the Sunshine Camp at Saanichton to the end of the term. It is rather unfortunate that the funds have not come in sufficiently to enable us to continue. It may be of interest to the citizens at large to know that most of the orders that are taken out to (Turn to Page 5, Col. 6)

Gordon of Victoria Act
as Judges

Special to The Times
Pender Island, Aug. 17.—Favorable local weather and good attendance to this annual Agricultural and showing fair held in Pender Bay on Wednesday was an outstanding feature. The exhibits numbered 500 and were of creditable quality according to the judges. L. W. White, Agricultural Commissioner, and Mrs.
J. D. Gordon, president of the Pender Island Women's Institute, acted as judges. Many parties from neighboring islands attended, and the Pender Island Women's Institute had a flourishing display.

Opening by Max McDonald, M.P.P., was a most interesting address.
Mr. McDonald, president of the new show favorable comment.
The attractions included "hoppy" corn, which was one of the best under the management of the Pender Island Women's Institute.
A contest between the local and a scratch team from other islands was held in favor of the visitors. Bob Gordon of Pender Harbor received prize for his jaw when the ball fell in the hands of a local player and puck him in the face. He was immediately rushed to Ganges hospital.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD By William Ferguson

THE A. ERNEST MILLS, A SCHOONER CARRYING A CARGO OF SALT, SANK OFF THE COAST OF NORTH CAROLINA, AFTER BEING RAIMED / FOUR DAYS LATER SHE BOBBED UP TO THE SURFACE... THE SALT HAVING DISSOLVED DURING THAT TIME.

SOUND is the direct opposite of silence, and it is natural to suppose that two sounds could be heard more readily than either one alone. Yet, the fact remains that the two can produce silence, and the phenomenon is by no means uncommon.

LOOSE ENDS

down on the wheat under they've always known that. Down on the wheat the hie of the neighborhood are pulling out of the water on bacon rinds and pretending they're dragons, breathing fire.

FAILURE

THE education survey now sitting in British Columbia should leave the theories of the problem for a moment and study a few clinical cases. I have in mind two specimens from our school system which would be fruitful food for the investigator's consideration. I came across them in Vancouver the other day, not having seen them before in nearly twenty years.

Frank was the cleverest boy in our school. He would invariably lead the class. He soon knew as much as the teachers, perhaps more. The teachers used to point to him as the perfect example for us who lagged behind.
They used to say that Frank would make his name in the world while the rest of us were digging ditches.
(In those days of prosperity it never occurred to teachers that a ditch digger's job might be considered a high ambition for hundreds of thousands of unemployed Canadians who are forced to live on a daily much smaller than a ditch digger's wages).

The other specimen was Joe. Joe could never learn anything. They used to keep him in after school trying to hammer arithmetic into him.
They used to pump him full of history and chemistry, but it never stayed with him overnight. In those days he was known as the dunce of the school. To-day we would call him a dumb cluck. Anyway, Joe was perfectly hopeless and the teachers gave him up after a while. He never got past the entrance class.
Well, I ran across Joe and Frank in Vancouver not long ago. Frank, the brilliant student and glowing example, is a clerk in a dry goods store, where he applies his knowledge of mathematics to the measurement of suits and collars. Before the depression they paid him $100 a month.

Joe, the dumb cluck who could never learn anything, is a broker on Granville Street and when I saw him he was driving off in a lemon-colored Packard for an afternoon's golf at Shaughnessy.

What do Dr. Weir's experts make of that? Is that the fault of the education system which fills boys minds with information and doesn't teach them to think? Or is it the fault of a thoroughly rotten communications system which doesn't reward honest effort, but only successful gambling? Or is it just the lamentable waywardness of human nature which even experts can never seem to do anything about? And which is the worst failure, the wheat reflection on our system, Frank or Joe?

The Sunshine Camp are facing serious health problems. The two weeks we keep the mothers and children at the camp, they have these meals a day, all they can eat, and all the milk they wish to drink, no work of any kind but to back in the sunshine and rest, and long hours of outdoor play and be away from the noise and confusion of the city streets, which means a great deal to them, and which cannot be met if they continue to stay in the city under difficult circumstances.

We are using fifty-five gallons of milk weekly which means they have all the milk they can drink, seventy-five pounds of meat, and forty-five pounds of bread. The Sunshine Camp is buying all the fresh eggs, vegetables and fruit daily from the farmers in that district. The management there is under the most economical conditions that could possibly be obtained. The only people receiving any pay are the cook, the camp mother, and the sports director, all the other help which is obtained there is voluntary.

It may be of interest to the community to know that the cost is also a dietitian and the camp mother is a trained nurse who has had overseas experience. The sports director arranges different sports and games to amuse and entertain the children, and the committee would like to carry on the work until the end of the term providing funds are available; but as treasurer of the above funds, I greatly fear that we will not be able to continue much longer.

The committee realizes the good obtained from the fact that each mother and child is examined by the city doctor, weighed and weight registered, and on their return to the city we do likewise, hence the committee knows exactly what benefit underprivileged mothers and children derive from these two weeks of rest and good food. All the committee needs is a little more money and I sincerely hope it will be forthcoming so as to enable us to continue.

The Sunshine Camp is not only for those in Victoria, but we also take families from Seattle, Oak Bay, and Esquimalt. Only by strict economy will the committee be able to continue the work of the camp in taking care of so many mothers and children for the little amount of her budget, namely, which is only $2,000.

The Sunshine Camp fund is entirely independent and kept separate from Friendly Welfare fund and every dollar contributed to the Sunshine Camp is not to be used for any other purpose but for the benefit of the underprivileged mothers and children.

P. LAKEMAN,
Treasurer of Sunshine Camp and Chairman.

SALMON DERBY SEMIS SUNDAY

Island competitors in the Port Anglo Salmon Derby will have their last chance to qualify for the big event which will take place on September 2 and 3, when the local semifinal will be held Sunday at Brentwood.

Competitors in Sunday's semis are expected that all fish must be weighed in at McKenzie Bay not later than 3 o'clock.

Local fishermen who have already reached the final and the weight of the fish they caught in order to qualify follow: J. Patroll, 24 pounds;
P. Smith, 17 pounds; M. Chisholm, 15½ pounds, and P. Ray, 14 pounds.
Fishermen wishing further particulars are requested to communicate with S. Shemilt, telephone B2115.

Do you waste gasoline the way this man does?

He SOCKS the floor board!

Stepping down on the accelerator full force ("floor board socking") pumps gasoline into the cylinders faster than it can be used economically.
Super-Shell, because it is "balance-refined," contains the volatile QUICK ACTING FRACTIONS that give lightning pick-up. Thus you always get faster response (and less waste). And you don't need to "sock the floor board."

Your gasoline itself can cause these 10 little wastes that Super-Shell positively reduces

PICK-UP WASTE REDUCED—by Super-Shell's quick-acting energy.

MILEAGE WASTE REDUCED—because Super-Shell is oil power.

STARTING WASTE REDUCED—
due to its powerful volatile fractions.

DETONATION WASTE REDUCED—by Super-Shell's top octane (anti-knock) quality.

WARMING-UP WASTE REDUCED—because Super-Shell is made to deliver full power in a cold motor.

CARBON-FORMING WASTE REDUCED—
because Super-Shell is clean burning.

VARIOUS LOCK WASTE REDUCED—because the volatile "top" are entirely removed from Super-Shell.

GAS TANK LOSSES REDUCED—because the quick-evaporating "top"
"top" just aren't there.

DILUTION WASTE REDUCED—because Super-Shell vaporizes fully over a wider range of operating temperatures.

COMBUSTION WASTE REDUCED—because there are no heavy "bottom" to clog up unburned.

Eczeema Between Fingers. Hands Very Sore. Healed by Cuticura.

"Eczeema broke out in the form of pimples between my fingers and on the palm of my hand. Later the pimples filled with water and my skin cracked, causing it to bleed. It caused much itching and burning and I was very restless at night. My hands were very sore and it hurt me very much to do my work."

"A friend told me about Cuticura Soap and Ointment and I sent for a few samples. I bought more and after I had used one cake of Cuticura Soap and one bar of Cuticura Ointment I was healed." (Signed) Mrs. Mary Gable, 200 St. George St., Montreal, N. B., Nov. 11, 1933.

PRINCESS TO GET $250,000

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Makes Settlement in "Rasputin" Libel Case

Associated Press
London, Aug. 17.—Princess Irene Yusupov receives $250,000 under the terms of the settlement of her libel suits against Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Limited, Panny Holman, counsel, announced to-day.

The libel suit was based on the film "Rasputin." The English courts awarded the princess damages of $125,000. The case was appealed by the film company, but they again lost, and the princess then determined to carry the fight into the other countries where the film had been shown. To-day's settlement will mean the end of the litigation.

London, Aug. 17.—Miss E. Stanford, of Cranbrook Park, West Green, casually picked up a picture postcard which the postman had dropped through her letter-box. The writing on it caused her to turn faint, and it was some time before she collected herself to read it.

The postcard bore the writing of her dead sister, and the wording: "I gave you a bad turn." Miss Stanford said to a reporter. The card contained a view of the village and a halfpenny stamp. It was written in pencil and quite legible.

Latest Rumor Of Royal Betrothal

Associated Press
London, Aug. 17.—Princess Juliana of the Netherlands has been endowed with another prospective husband by rumormongers who up to now have been entirely unsuccessful.

The latest of the numerous princesses with whom she has been linked in rumor is Prince Charles of Sweden, nephew of King Gustav.

The Stockholm correspondent of the London Mail says that notwithstanding official denials, the rumor persists that this engagement will be announced on August 31, the birthday of Queen Wilhelmina.

Wilted Lettuce Can Be Revived

If you want to revive wilted lettuce or other salad greens, put them in a pan of cold water to which has been added a cupful of vinegar. Let them sit for half an hour and they will be quite crisp. Incidentally, if you wrap lettuce in a damp towel and stick the ends of the towel in a dish of water, it will keep fresh for days.

Drivers Endanger Men On Road Work

Lives of men working on the Four Mile Hill on the Island Highway are being endangered through the careless disregard of some automobile drivers for warning signs placed near the gangs. It was stated to-day by department of Public Works officials who appealed for co-operation from the motoring public in this regard.

Flags have been prominently displayed on the road to warn of the work proceeding but some drivers fail to observe them and go speeding by as fast as they can, endangering the men as well as interfering with the work, it was stated.

"These men are relief workers, trying to earn enough to support their wives and families, and it is only fair the motorists should slow down and not create danger of accidents," a works department official said.

GOOD ENTRY OF HEAVY HORSES

Proud-stepping Clydesdales and Percherons to Be Exhibited in Fall Fair

Proud stepping heavy horses, Clydesdales and Percherons, will be represented in goodly numbers in their particular divisions of the annual fall fair of the British Columbia Exhibition Association at the Willows next month, a survey of early entries revealed to-day.

Harry Selzer, Calgary, well-known Canadian breeder who has exhibited at the major prairie exhibitions, has notified the local authorities he will have a car of seventeen Percherons in the show when he makes his debut in the international event to be staged here. Included in his entry will be a six-horse team.

F. J. Munro, Carleton Place, Ontario, will have on display a car of Clydesdales which will also include a six-horse team.

R. Thoburn, Vancouver, and R. J. Dull of the Crystal Dairy, Vancouver, will each have six-horse Clydesdale teams in the competition, while D. P. Burns, Albany, Oregon, will strengthen the challenge of the Percherons in that division. He will also send a car of that breed to the exhibition to seek laurels in the various classes open to heavy drafts.

SERVICE

(It's not expensive to travel in C.N.R. comfort.)

Your Comfort is AssuredWhen You Travel With Us.

Not only is the railway the safest means of transportation in the world, but for land journeys it is easily the most comfortable. All railways recognize that their obligations to their passengers involve more than merely transporting them from one place to another—and much more is provided.

Canadian National Railways' equipment is modern and is designed to afford the maximum of comfort. Not only has much thought been given to obtain the best in material, but C.N.R. officials are alert at all times to see that the traveller is made to feel thoroughly at ease.

The ability to stretch one's legs and move about..... the feeling of roominess..... the well-appointed washrooms..... the cool ventilation in summer and the cosy warmth in winter..... the thoughtful but unobtrusive attention of employees who are anxious to please and know how..... these are the commonplace provisions of this great railway system.

Then there are the cool, cheerful dining and buffet cars, where the best of food, expertly prepared and served, is available at very low cost, and, at night, the spotless and airy berths, inviting and ensuring restful sleep. No other form of land transportation can begin to compare with it.

This comfort makes all the difference to a journey. Without it even a short trip becomes a trial to temper and body; with it, any journey, long or short, is an exhilarating and happy experience and one to be repeated as often as possible. An all-day journey in a C.N.R. car is almost like resting in a friendly armchair beside a window and watching an endless and ever-changing panorama of town and country pass by.

The C.N.R. specializes in comfort. You should therefore use it for all travel purposes. You will be completely pleased.

ROYAL VICTORIA TO BE REOPENED

Vancouver Hears Big Local Theatre Will Be Reconstructed for Sound Films

Vancouver, Aug. 17.—Changes in the theatre line-up in Victoria will be announced within the next few days, according to information in amusement administration circles here.

The changes will follow the visit to Victoria last week about the big local theatre, the Royal Victoria, which is being reconstructed for sound films.

As a result of their study, it was learned to-day that the Royal Victoria Theatre, one of the "A" houses of the coast, will be remodelled and start business at the opening of the autumn season. This big theatre, with a seating capacity of 1,800 persons, had been closed for several years, except when used by itinerant shows or local productions. Now it will be made one of the first class moving picture houses on the coast.

Acoustic conditions of the Royal Victoria Theatre are known to be more nearly perfect than those of any large theatre in the west, and have shown it will make an ideal house for sound pictures.

Reconstruction work for wiring the theatre for sound pictures, it is understood, is being let for new furnishings, decorations, a modernized entrance and for large outdoor illuminations.

The stage of the theatre, sealed for large-scale "legitimate" productions, will be preserved for the staging of vaudeville and other feature productions between pictures, so that the theatre will maintain a complete entertainment programme on a par with those of the best houses of Seattle and Vancouver.

The operation of the Royal Victoria will be articulated with that of the Capitol and Dominion which are the other Paramount houses in Victoria.

CLIFF DENHAM MAY RETURN

Recognition of improved business conditions in Victoria with the prospects of a continued upturn during the autumn and winter, is credited with being responsible for the decision of the Paramount chiefs to order the reopening of the Royal Victoria. Reports in amusement circles here to-day were to the effect that Cliff Denham, for years manager of the Royal Victoria, and lately manager of the Capitol Theatre in Nainimo, would be moved back to Victoria to take charge of the new operation.

international trade and Canada must do likewise if it hoped to survive. Within itself, Canada had a definite challenge to face, he declared. He instanced some of the revelations before the price spreads committee at Ottawa and concluded with an appeal to Canadians as a whole to inject into their business life the principles which they knew in their hearts to be those underlying true human feeling.

FINDS CHANGES HERE

Mr. Stevens was introduced by Herbert Atkinson, president of the Canadian Club, as a "national figure" who had shown that big men could come out of the west.

"Every time I come back to British Columbia I find that changing conditions common to the rest of the world are not absent here," said Mr. Stevens at the outset of his address. "I have heard from your major this morning about your local problems, but whether we can do anything to help you I cannot say now."

The New Orientation of Commerce and Industry, was chosen by the minister for his subject. Radical and dramatic changes were being brought about in business, and those engaged in business should address themselves to this question.

ADJUSTMENT MAY BE LONG

"In the first place, one often hears that if governments would stop interfering in business, the world's affairs would move along more smoothly," he said. "This comes about because of the old businessmen. They say bad times have come and gone and will do so again. That may be true in part, but we are in about the same position as England was between 1890 and 1900. The transition between the pre-machine age and the introduction of steam and machinery. If we assume that is correct, any student must realize we are not going to pass out of our condition in a short time. It took decades for England to adjust itself."

"SUPPLY AND DEMAND" LAW IN SUSPENSE

The law of supply and demand was in suspense to-day, the minister declared. That was what must be remembered by the business-fair people. Even staid old England had thrown it overboard.

In my opinion, we must recognize there is an entirely new method of doing business in the world, Mr. Stevens went on.

"In the last five years there has been a complete revolution."

As an instance of this he cited the impressions of a large exporter on a trip to Europe who found he could not do business in anything like the same way as a few years ago.

Italy and Germany had adopted control methods, he pointed out, outlining the control system of Germany. These things were of importance to Canada because Canada had to do business with other countries.

CONTROL BY AGREEMENTS

Canada could not compete on a straight basis when prices and quotas were fixed by international agreements of which it was not a part.

As an instance of this kind of control, he told of a purchase made by the B.C. Electric Co. in Germany. He had discovered the reason the equipment had not been bought in England was because the English firm had agreed to keep out of the Canadian market.

"This is an illustration of how markets are controlled by agreements between private companies," he said. Under similar the control for protecting out trade was being brought under the government, he pointed out. No one could expect the government would lead, but it certainly existed, as important knew.

Russia, with its state socialism and the United States with the NIRA, were other instances of the new methods of handling international trade and of the difficulties facing the Canadian government in promoting its world trade.

TRADE CURBED BY NATIONALISM

Wheat and wheat flour from Canada had been almost shut out of some European countries by enormous duties. Bacon, ham, chicken and similar products were also faced by prohibitive tariffs, all an outcome of the nationalist spirit developed since the war.

Europe was more nationalist to-day than ever before and the conditions there were just as sensitive as in 1913 and 1915. He said in passing at this point. "The nationalist feeling has developed because of fear that they would be dependent on other countries in case of war."

In this connection he showed how vitally affected farmers, fishermen and producers in Canada were by the trade barriers of Europe.

INTER-DEPENDENCE IN CANADA

Turning back to the Canadian picture, he pointed out how the manufacturers of Ontario and the farmers of the west are inter-dependent.

Wheat prices were fixed by the market and could not be controlled, he said, but other products consumed to a large extent within Canada, could be controlled.

At this point he mentioned the growth of the British market for Canada and warned that it must be carefully nurtured by observation of regulations governing the market.

"It was the recognition of the situation that caused us to pass the Marketing Act," he said in explaining how necessary it was to follow the proper practices when selling to controlled markets.

If some antidote for selfishness and greed in business could be found, the situation would improve, he said, in an appeal for fair trade practices.

AGAINST CHEAP PRODUCTION

In reference to the sweatshops, he illustrated how "well-managed business" had been forced into bankruptcy by others who had no regard for ethics, paying, for instance, 25 cents a dozen for labor in making women's shoes in the east.

"Would I be doing my duty if I stood by and let that situation continue?" he asked.

He cited several cases from evidence before the mass buying committee.

One girl had been working in a factory for ten years. Up to two years ago she earned an average of $18 a week. An experienced operator now, she works twice as hard, but averages only $8 a week.

"When you are confronted with a condition where business men, trying to pay decent wages, are driven out of business by men of this sort, are we as Canadians, citizens, to remain quiet?" he asked. "Can we harbor men of that kind in our Canadian democracy?"

WAGES CUT, PROFITS UP

"I've been criticized because I have said there is no law in economics, no social justification for a corporation on a basis of $10,000,000, built up to $100,000,000, paying 6 per cent on that amount, turning to the producer of goods and cutting the price of the article from 25 cents to 17 cents and cutting wages 10 to 15 per cent."

One large firm had asked its employees to take a cut because of hard times and they had done so cheerfully, accepting two 50 per cent cuts, he went on. But the firm then was able to pay back dividends for several years out of the profits it made as a result.

If so Democratic, the Canadian people did not take steps to correct this situation then it could expect other forces to take control of the economic and social structure, he declared.

THREE UPSET IN NANAIMO HARBOR

Nanaimo, Aug. 17.—Struck by a sudden squall in the harbor yesterday evening, a sailboat was overturned and its occupants were in a narrow escape from drowning. In the boat were Robert Baxter, Miss Baxter and Miss Wootley.

After being thrown into the water they clung to their overturned boat for some time before being rescued by a passing launch. Fortunately they were not hurt, but the boat was damaged. After reporting to the police they went back to recover their clothes and sailboat.

OPPOSITION TO BRIDGE GROWS

Resolution Against Fraser River Toll Plan Unanimously Carried

Canadian Press

Cloverdale, Aug. 17.—Residents of Cloverdale and officials from Chilliwack, Coquitlam, Burnaby, Richmond, Matsqui and Abbotsford gathered here yesterday evening and unanimously adopted a resolution emphatically opposing the construction of a toll bridge at New Westminster.

Several speeches were made, the general tenor of which was that the general government was not justified in erecting a toll bridge and closing other bridges to the inconvenience and expense of the residents of the district. The project was termed "unwarranted interference" with the public highway system.

THE SCREEN

SPY PICTURE AT DOMINION

Myrna Loy and George Brent Have Leading Roles in "Stamboul Quest"

Interest in spies never wanes—so, having faith in this belief, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer brings to the screen one of the most exciting screen stories based upon the love and adventure of one of Europe's famous secret service agents.

The new picture, "Stamboul Quest," which opened to-day at the Dominion Theatre, presents Myrna Loy in the entrancing role of "Frau Doktor," Germany's most valuable spy in the World War and the woman who sent the Red Army to her death.

George Brent, as the reckless young American who becomes entangled in the international spy web—and invariably falls in love with the lovely spy—makes his first appearance in a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture.

"Facing the Music" is being shown to-day at the Empire Theatre.

The theme of the story concerns a publicity stunt to steal a prima donna's jewels during a performance of "Faust," but things start going awry when they actually are stolen. Stanley's efforts to track down the thieves, catch the prima donna and propose to her niece provide as merry and exciting an entertainment as one could wish for, and in addition there are some beautiful excerpts from "Faust" and "The Merry Widow" for which a full-sized stage, orchestra and auditorium were built.

PLAYHOUSE THEATRE

In "Autumn Crocus," now showing at the Playhouse Theatre, patrons are assured of one of the most famous, attractive and highly recommended pictures of the current season.

As a play "Autumn Crocus" ran for 879 performances at the Lyric and Savoy Theatres, London, a success which was repeated in America, Australia, South Africa and elsewhere. Mr. Basil Dean, who produced the play, also directed the picture.

With Fay Compton and Tyrone Power in the star roles, "Autumn Crocus" depicts the wonderful love story of a demure pretty Manchester school mistress and the handsome, captivating young proprietor of a Tyrolean mountain inn.

There is a most unusual cast in Joe E. Brown's latest National comedy, "The Circus Clown," which comes to the Capitol Theatre on Saturday. The picture was photographed for the most part at the winter quarters of the Al. G. Barnum circus, and in addition to the regular cast there are a score or more of famous circus performers who have small parts or will be seen in the circus acts which act as a background for the comedy action.

Prominent among the circus folk are "Foolies" Hanneford, famous bareback rider; Mamie Ward, chief of the Flying Wards; The Circus Queens and the Flying Circus Family, all aerialists; Ruby Woods, the trapeze artist; Dolly Jacobs, the girl with the iron jaw; Bill Kling, still walker; Charlie Matlock, aerialist; Charlie (Spud) Redick, noted band leader, and several famous clowns, including Ed Taylor, Curley Phillips, Pat Kling, Jack MacAlpin and many others.

The second feature will be "As the Earth Turns," with Donald Woods and Jean Muir.

COLUMBIA THEATRE

At his time the debonair Adolphe Menjou has played many parts, but all his records for one feature are broken in "Blame the Woman," now at the Columbia Theatre. A gentleman crook, hotly pursued by the best man of Scotland Yard, Adolphe is forced to don a variety of make-ups, and use at least three dialects. At one point in the story he is seemingly cornered in the washroom of a large hotel, but by quick-change work makes the business believe there are two persons in the room.

CAPITOL THEATRE

John Eldridge, who recently arrived on the Warner lot, from Broadway, makes his screen bow in the murder mystery thriller, "The Man With Two Faces," now at the Capitol Theatre. What pleases young Mr. Eldridge most, however, was that he also had a chance to see his family. Arriving in San Francisco, he was met by a wire requesting his immediate presence in Hollywood, so he had to take a plane half an hour later. But at least he was there.

Germany Wants To Go Own Way

Hitler Informs Shipyard Workers No Favors Wanted From Hostile World

By WADE WERNER, Associated Press Foreign Staff

Hamburg, Germany, Aug. 17.—United Germany asks no favors of a hostile world, but has the right to expect to be allowed to go its own way in peace, Chancellor Hitler told shipyard workers in an unscheduled waterfront speech this afternoon.

Hitler, on a tour of Hamburg prior to his political speech to-night, talked briefly to the workers of Hamburg's hard-hit harbor about the problem of restoring Germany's industrial prosperity.

"I am convinced it can be solved," declared Dr. Fuehrer, "but I also am convinced it can be solved only by a united nation—with a leadership backed by the united strength of the People."

Besides being highly recommended for chick litter, there are other uses for glass cuttings. One reader suggests that they make excellent stuffing for pillows or cushions for the garden. For this purpose they should be spread out on a large sheet of paper and left to dry in the sun.

Bachelor Girl Is Ignorant Of Her Luck

Male Bachelors Get No Sympathy

WHY DO PEOPLE pity old maids? Why do old maids pity themselves? Why are mothers so anxious for their daughters to marry that they would rather that they were unhappily married, than not to be married at all? Why does a woman feel that getting a husband is drawing the curtain on the lottery of life, and that if she doesn't get one she is bound to spend her days in darkness and loneliness?

Nobody feels that way about an old bachelor. Nobody looks at him with tears of sympathy, and most of all he is sorry for himself. Nobody considers that life must be tedious, when and when to him because he isn't married. On the contrary, he is cheered by loneliness, he is respected and regarded by other men with awe and envy because he has been tough enough to dodge the burdens of matrimony.

Yet in these days of feminine emancipation, when the career of occupation is open to a woman and a woman's earning capacity and her achievements are only limited by her ability, wherein is the lot of the girl bachelor different from the lot of the man bachelor? Why should we esteem single blessedness a curse to women and a graft for men?

No one will deny that an ideal marriage is the nearest approach to a heaven on earth that any mortal can ever know. For a woman to get a husband who is tender and true and loving and who gives her a perfect companionship; to have a beautiful and peaceful home and fine children is for her to be the darling of the gods. If marriage inevitably brought this to a woman—even if she had a sporting chance of getting it—she could not wonder at her desire for matrimony and at her feeling that to be an old maid was the crowning blow that fate could deal her.

But this is not the case. It is only in fairy tales that Prince Charming comes riding every maiden's way. If there are any husbands who are a happy combination of a sheik and Jacob and Job and Mr. Rockefeller, most wives would pay out good money to see them in a freak show. Most homes are wastelands instead of palaces of dreams and often children are cause of tears and anxiety instead of pride and congratulation.

When the average old maid compares her lot with that of her married sister she does not want to swap jobs with her. She looks in the mirror and sees that she would pass for five years younger than sister. She is better dressed. She would only astonish her, instead of telling eighteen hours a day, with no holidays or Sundays off. On Saturday night she has her pay envelope instead of getting nothing for her week's labor.

She is free to come and go as she pleases, instead of having to ask permission to go even to the movies. She does not have to go in fear and trembling of any man's temper or graces.

She is treated with respect and consideration, and even jelled along by her boss, because if he knocked her work continually and swore at her and was gruff and rude to her she would give notice and quit. And highly competent women assistants, such as she is, are hard to get and are valuable when got, whereas wives are bound to stay on, no matter what sort of treatment they receive.

A girl will tell you that she is going to get married because she is tired of working, and then she will deliberately espouse a poor man and walk out of a mahogany furnished office into a kitchen, where she will have to sleep ten times as hard as she ever worked before.

Thousands of women marry because they are so afraid of loneliness, yet they could count on the fingers of one hand and have a thumb and little finger to spare all the wives they know who get any companionship from their husbands. A stuffed dummy with a newspaper in its hand is about as chatty as the average husband is at his own fireside, unless company comes in.

Taking it by and large, there are more wives than old maids who spend lonely evenings because the old maid can put on her hat and go out and hunt up congenial society or go to places of amusement, while the wife has to stay put and wait for husband's return or listen to his snore.

Now I am not trying to discourage any girl from getting married who has the common sense to take a male and who finds one ready to her hand. Without doubt she is carrying on the good work that helps to better the world, and if she is a girl who moves ahead than her parents out of matrimony she has at least the consolation of writing Mrs. before her name and pitying those who are perpetual Misses.

But there are many thousands of women who will never marry, for whom there are no husbands, and I would like to give them a word of cheer and to assure them that they have no reason to be sorry for themselves. Possibly they may have missed the worst misery, and they have no more cause to pine over not having married a paragon of a husband than they have to beat upon their breast and wail because they are not the Queen of England or a movie star or a millionaire.

They don't worry over that. Why should they worry over not drawing the matrimonial prize?

UNCLE WIGGLY'S GOOD BUNNIES

By HOWARD E. GARRIS

Uncle Wiggly hopped along the board walk at the seashore and just the little shop kept by the Old Sea Dog who sold everything, except the other things.

"Come in, Uncle Wiggly," greeted the Sea Dog. "He didn't greet because he was cross. That was just his way of talking."

"I don't want to buy anything new, thank you," said Uncle Wiggly. "I've bought two new rabbits from your rabbit boys, Buster and Myster. I gave them each five dollars, and the Sea Dog showed two shells."

But to his own surprise, as well as the surprise of Uncle Wiggly, the shells instead of being pink were now white.

"That was just his way of talking," said the Sea Dog. "I'm sure they were. That's the Sea Dog. 'How they are white. Oh, dear!'"

Uncle Wiggly looked at the shells. He said the words and tasted them with his tongue.

"Strawberry ice cream!" said the rabbit gentleman.

"What do you mean?" asked the Sea Dog.

"I mean," said the rabbit gentleman, "that these two white shells of mine found two white shells on the beach. With the other children, Buster and Myster were looking for pink shells to sell you, as I told them to do so they would have a little extra to do each day."

"Yes," barked the Sea Dog. "I will buy all the pink shells your bunnies bring me. I can sell them again. But white shells I can't sell."

"Oh, you mean," agreed Uncle Wiggly, "that these two white shells of mine found two white shells on the beach. With the other children, Buster and Myster were looking for pink shells to sell you, as I told them to do so they would have a little extra to do each day."
